

The Future of Metro Boston:

You know the trends.
You've heard the estimates.
You've seen the projections.

Now it's time to create the solutions.

Announcing Two Working Sessions to Develop Alternative Growth Strategies for Metro Boston:

- Tuesday, June 27: 5:00-9:00 p.m., Sheraton Tara Hotel, Framingham
- Wednesday, June 28: 5:00-9:00 p.m., Curry Student Center, Northeastern University, Boston

Dinner will be served at both events. Please visit www.mapc.org/rsvp or e-mail MetroFuture@mapc.org to reserve your spot. Have questions? Call 617-451-2770 x2080.

We will do our best to accommodate requests for child care or translation services.

Why We Need You

MetroFuture: Making a Greater Boston Region is an initiative to identify how the region should grow through the year 2030; the final strategy must reflect the many voices and interests of the region's residents.

Whether your concerns relate to housing affordability, traffic congestion, water shortages, public safety, the region's diversity, municipal finance or other issues, reserve a seat at the table!

MetroFuture is a project of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC), the regional planning agency for 101 Metro Boston communities. Visit www.MetroFuture.org to learn more.

WHAT TO EXPECT AT THE FORUMS

You will work with maps, computer tools, and people from across the region to create a detailed picture of how you think Metro Boston should grow over the coming decades. Together, you will develop different options for the region's future and explore what these changes would mean for our communities, our environment, and our quality of life.
